

Policy on International Students at Hereford Cathedral School

Hereford Cathedral School seeks to provide a wide range of educational opportunities for a broad spectrum of pupils. The School recognises that a diverse range of cultures will significantly add to this goal, and therefore welcomes pupils from other countries who would directly benefit from our unique Cathedral School education. Overseas pupils are integrated with care and sensitivity so that the quality of their own academic, pastoral, spiritual and social experience is enhanced whilst that of the wider school community is also enriched. The School is keen to ensure that overseas students leave with skills, attributes and experiences that make a valid contribution to their own culture.

The School's outstanding reputation for pastoral care is maintained by ensuring that overseas students feel welcomed and valued throughout their stay at the School. Students are not only inducted into the School's own customs and traditions, but are provided with a wider perspective on British life. Through exposure to different faiths and cultures, the School's teachings on tolerance and mutual understanding are greatly enhanced and validated.

A designated member of staff oversees international students at HCS and ensures that the School communicates efficiently and effectively with parents of overseas students. The designated member of staff makes certain that members of staff receive appropriate training to accommodate the needs of international students. International students may require support with academic and learning issues, language needs, pastoral support (e.g. cultural shock), and support with religious, cultural, spiritual and moral issues.

The Headmaster is the Authorising Officer and the Deputy Head of International Students is the Key Contact for the UKVI (UK Visas and Immigration) and reports to the Governing Body once a year and liaises termly with the Head of International Students.
